

LEFT/RIGHT panel

Example with explanation

FALK supplies sandwich roof panels in both a left and a right version. These versions are create by making a cutback (CB). Because of those two versions, it is always possible to place the mutual side overlap against the prevailing wind direction. This way the wind does not get a grip on the overlap. In contrast, the overlap is better closed.

